About

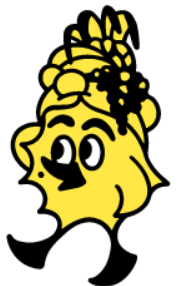

Homegrown in Austin, Texas where hot sauce is its own food group, and we treat it as such. We feed people as we wish to be fed.

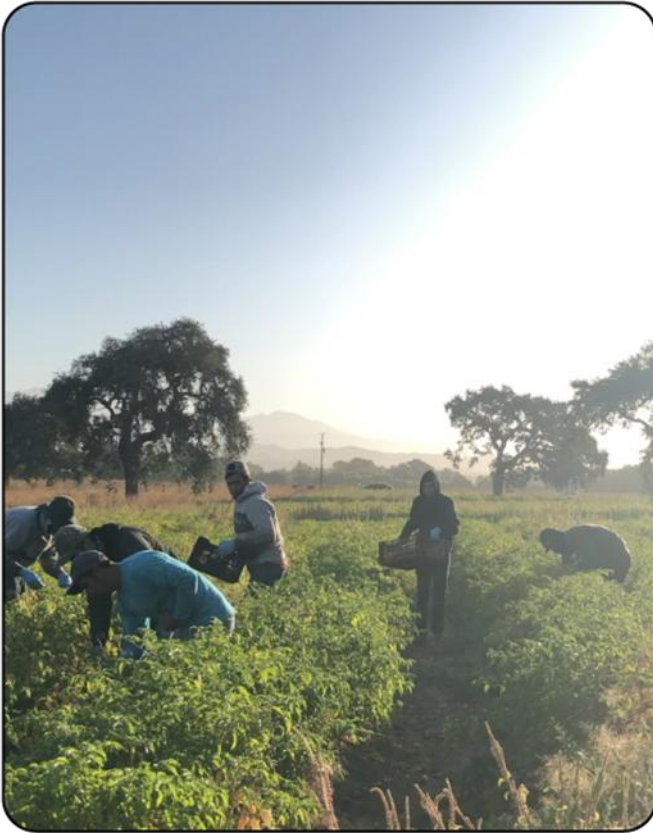

Yellowbird's delicious, farm-fresh flavors provide respite for those who crave thrilling flavor without the overly processed powders, preservatives, sugars, or seed oils.

Whole ingredients are the base of our thick and velvety, flavor-forward hot sauces crafted to elevate every dish (and every day) with cross-cultural appeal.

In true Austin form, we keep hot sauce weird!

Consumers are seeking quality sourcing, without the harmful artificial additives and thickeners that are identified in today's top brands.

We're proud to partner with trusted farms who obsess over growing only the highest quality fruits and veggies.

Your customers can trust in Yellowbird to provide them with the highest-quality and tastiest hot sauces for their everyday thrills. Our unique flavors are made daily with love in our dedicated facility just south of Austin.

We prioritize a domestic supply chain for produce and materials to ensure high quality and reliability, and to add strength and prowess to "Made in the USA."
